

Develop your in-house surveying talent

A vocational diploma to address the lack of skilled technical staff required by modern housing providers

- ✓ Focus on social housing providers
- ✓ Part time training to fit around work commitments
- ✓ An opportunity to upskill current or new members of staff
- ✓ Leads to RICS membership at Associate level

The Sava Diploma in Building Surveying and Housing Management

This vocational diploma addresses the lack of qualified and skilled technical staff urgently required by modern housing providers, as well as the consulting and contracting organisations that support them. It focusses specifically on the asset management and compliance demands of social housing.

Ideal candidates for this qualification would be those working in:

- ✓ Housing Maintenance
- ✓ Compliance and health and safety
- ✓ Stock condition assessment
- ✓ Or any individual seeking to gain a vocational and professional qualification in surveying and housing management.

Businesses whom would typically put employees forward for this qualification:

- ✓ Social Housing providers
- ✓ Local authorities with in house housing stock
- ✓ Property inspection companies
- ✓ Property and asset maintenance companies
- ✓ Facilities management companies in the domestic sector

Apprenticeship Levy funding

- ✓ The diploma is employer lead and is mapped against the RICS' Surveying Technician Apprenticeship standard
- ✓ Successful individuals will be able to join RICS as Associate Members
- ✓ Sava is approved to offer modern apprenticeships and significant funding is available for levy paying organisations

Knowledge overview

① PROPERTY & HOUSING LAW

② PROFESSIONAL ISSUES

③ BUILDING CONSTRUCTION

④ BUILDING PATHOLOGY

⑤ HEALTH & SAFETY, INC. FIRE AND ASBESTOS

⑥ BUILDING & MAINTENANCE CONTRACTS

⑦ INSPECTING PROPERTY AND DATA MGT

⑧ BUILDING SERVICES

⑨ SUSTAINABILITY & SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY

⑩ HOUSING FINANCE & COMPLIANCE FRAMEWORK

⑪ REPORTING, SPECIFICATIONS & SCHEDULE OF WORKS

⑫ ASSESSMENT & AssocRICS ASSESSMENT

“Building Surveying is concerned with the design, construction, support and management of real estate assets throughout their lifecycle”.

The Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors

About Sava

Sava strives to make buildings better. We do this by providing education, technology, and compliance services to building owners, surveyors and the wider property industry. We were established in 1983, and our roots are within energy assessment and home condition surveying.

We have a track record of working with the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors (RICS), and we devised the Diploma in Residential Surveying & Valuation in 2014 to specifically address the skills shortage in the sector. Around 150 learners join this vocational two year Diploma programme each year, with graduates successfully joining surveying practices and undertaking fee earning work immediately after graduating – a testament to the vocational training delivered by industry experts. For more information see www.sava.co.uk.

We'd like to have your input into this new Diploma

We're currently finalizing the content of the Diploma (June 2018) and would like feedback from employers to ensure it is completely fit for purpose. To have a chat, or even join our Industry Feedback Group, get in contact with hilary.grayson@sava.co.uk, Sava's Director of Surveying Services.

We look forward to working with you.

June 2018